

GSK Internship (May 2019 to Jan 2020)

UPIP for Pharmaceutical Science students

Zavier Low Jun Sheng (Class of 2022)

“This internship has shed a new light on how the workplace is like in the modern era. I have learnt how a business is run and the decisions that are made in their projects. My one key learning objective is to be always willing to adapt and change, which is an important skill in today’s industry.”

Ashley Goh Lee Ann (Class of 2022)

“Prior to my attachment at GSK, I was unsure of what I wanted exactly I wanted, since the options as a Pharm Science graduate are endless. Now I have a solid understanding of the different functionalities in the industry, and clearer of how to work towards my goals. The possibilities in this industry is truly brimming.”

Wang Yiteng (Class of 2022)

“Interning at GSK doesn’t simply broaden my understandings in different functionalities in a pharmaceutical company. It also shows me a clearer pathway where I shall dedicate myself for with the rest of my undergraduate education in NUS.”

Ang Xiao Jun (Class of 2022)

“My internship at GSK has been an enriching experience and working in a global company made me understand how I can put my knowledge to use and bring improvement to the company. This internship is truly a significant milestone in my professional development as it has exposed me to the real-world pharmaceutical industry.”

Zavier Low Jun Sheng (left) and Ang Xiao Jun (right)

Zavier Low Jun Sheng (left) and Wang Yiteng (right)

Left to right: Ashley Goh Lee Ann, Wang Yiteng, Zavier Low Jun Sheng and Ang Xiao Jun

Ashley Goh Lee Ann (left) and Ang Xiao Jun (right)